

Complainant's Rights & Resources

This document contains the information and support resources shared with the Complainant (i.e. reporting party) regarding the resolution processes offered by the University of Kansas Office of Institutional Opportunity and Access (IOA) in response to alleged violations of the Sexual Harassment Policy and/or Non-Discrimination Policy.

Role of the IOA Investigator

IOA investigators are neutral and unbiased. Their role is to gather information about the allegation in a diplomatic, culturally competent, and sensitive manner that is fair to both you and the Respondent (i.e. responding party).

Right to a Representative

It is permissible for you to bring a support person, such as a parent, friend, colleague, counselor, advisor, or legal representative to all IOA meetings. If you choose to bring a support person with you we ask that you notify the IOA in advance by calling (785) 864-6414 so that we may make the appropriate meeting arrangements.

Interim Measures

The IOA is able to offer or impose a variety of interim measures to assist you and prevent you from harm. These support services are available regardless of whether you choose to file a criminal or IOA complaint and regardless of whether you choose to participate in a criminal or IOA investigation. Examples of interim measures include, but are not limited to, contact restrictions placed on the responding party, academic accommodations, alternative housing placement, alternative work schedules/locations, course schedule changes, legal assistance, student financial aid assistance, health and mental health support, visa and immigration assistance, and course withdrawal/load reductions.

Informal Resolution

If both you and the responding party independently agree, the IOA can assist you in resolving the reported concern informally through mediation, educational conversations, and other forms of dispute resolution. There are circumstances, however, when due to the severity or pervasive nature of the concern informal resolution is not appropriate. Please note mediation is not an alternative resolution for allegations of sexual misconduct or sexual violence.

Formal Complaint Investigation Process

Should you choose to request the IOA conduct a formal investigation you may be asked to complete the IOA complaint form. This is the first step in gathering information about what you experienced. Next, you will be contacted via email by an IOA investigator who will arrange a time to meet with you and allow you to describe what you experienced in detail. Here you may provide witness names (if applicable), and provide emails, text messages, and other documentation about the allegation.

After gathering information from you, the investigator will interview witnesses (if applicable), as well as interview the responding party to gather information regarding the alleged concern. The responding party will also be asked to provide witness names (if applicable), and provide documentation relevant to the concern.

Please note neither you nor the responding party are present during the other party's IOA interview. Additionally, the IOA will only interview relevant witnesses and review relevant documentation provided by both parties before concluding the investigation process.

Standard of Evidence

"Preponderance of the evidence" is the standard used for evaluating information gathered during the investigation of allegations of discrimination, harassment sexual misconduct, sexual violence, and retaliation. When making a factual determination, the preponderance of the evidence means the fact in issue is more probably true or likely to have occurred than not.

Investigation Findings & Appeal

After reviewing all the information provided by you, the responding party, witnesses, and any additional evidence; the IOA investigator will prepare an administrative findings report and determine if university policy was violated based on a preponderance of the evidence standard. A letter detailing the IOA investigator's finding will be shared with you and the responding party. This letter will also include a recommendation of disciplinary action (if applicable), and explain the appropriate avenues of appeal.

Timeframe for Investigation

The IOA has 60 calendar days to complete the investigation and issue the administrative findings report to both parties. The IOA may extend the investigation beyond the 60 calendar day time frame and will notify both parties of the extension.

Amnesty

The IOA recognizes that a student desiring to file an IOA complaint and witnesses who are asked to participate in an IOA investigation may be hesitant to engage in the investigation process for fear of being held responsible for violations of the University's Alcohol and Drug Policy. To eliminate this concern, a student who files a complaint with the IOA or witnesses who participate in an IOA investigation will not be subjected to discipline under the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities for personal consumption of alcohol and/or drugs.

Preserving Evidence

When sexual violence such as sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or intimate partner violence is alleged, it is important to preserve evidence when possible. Physical evidence is best collected within 72 hours of the assault. Evidence can be preserved by not showering/bathing or laundering your clothing to avoid washing away evidence. You can also preserve evidence by saving text messages, social media communications, and other information that may be useful for the investigator.

Confidentiality & Anonymity

All information shared with the IOA is treated with discretion and tact. Nevertheless, certain information provided to the IOA may need to be disclosed to other University officials. Those who participate in an IOA investigation are only provided with sufficient information to allow them to respond fairly to the alleged concern.

As the reporting party, you are welcome and encouraged to participate in the IOA investigation to your desired level of comfort. Participation in the IOA investigation process is voluntary.

You may also change your mind and decline to participate in the IOA investigation once the investigation process has started.

Please be aware that there are circumstances when the IOA may still choose to move forward with an investigation even if you are no longer interested in providing information or continue to be involved. However, without your involvement, the IOA's response to the alleged concern may be severely limited.

Retaliation

The University of Kansas prohibits retaliation against those who file an IOA complaint and witnesses who participate in an investigation. If you believe you are experiencing retaliation in any form, please let our office know as soon as possible. The IOA will respond promptly to all allegations of retaliation.
